QUIS SEPARABIT?

Now that the troops of the Line have left for the frontier, and the quarteles of the Tiro Nacional are closed, it is to be hoped that the political excitement which the assemblage of so many troops in this city gave rise to, will subside; and things being restored to their normal political state, the citizens will be enabled, not only to calmly discuss the dangers which they have escaped, but also those of which a near future is supposed to be pregnant.

Buenos Ayres must be admitted by everyone to be the New York of this Republic; the combined trade of the rest of the Union is but a fraction compared with that of this city. In trade, commerce and population it is so immeasurably superior to every city of the Republic that the irritation which Porteños may feel at being out-voted by the provinces seems both natural and excusable; nevertheless there are certain points of comparison in which the city and province of B. Ayres are as inferior to the rest of the Republic as they are superior to it in those already referred to.

The recent political excitement reaches much further than what the newspapers refer to, and as it is possible that before this question of the Presidential election is settled, we may have a recurrence of the same political trouble, a word in time may awaken contending politicians to the impossibility of a programme which, although not publicly announced, has been hinted at. We refer to the secession of Buenos Ayres from the Argentine Confederation.

As well might the city of London and the county of Middlesex propose to secede from the British Empire because the country squires out-vote it in Parliament, as for the city and province of Buenos Ayres to contemplate a secession from the Argentine Confederation of which it is the acknowledged head, front and chief. The position of affairs in this Republic is so defined that not even the most short-sighted Porteño can be blind to the consequences of separation, consequences far less fatal to the upper provinces, that have so little to lose, than to the Empire City and Province of Buenos Ayres, whose magnificent trade would, like that of Venice, dwindle to the smallest span if once shorn of the customers that claim it as their natural mart; and there is not throughout the whole Republic a city, town, or village whose existence depends more upon the present political organization than the city of Buenos Ayres. Were separation politic; were independence of the other provinces within the region of possibilities, it is not likely that General Mitre, after Pavon, would have re-entered a confederation from which the Province had so recently been sundered; and it was the abiding conviction that a confederated Union, with Buenos Aires the Capital, was the only possible solution, that compelled Gen. Mitre to reorganize the country on that basis.

The position of this country, however, has so immensely changed since the days of Pavon, that the banner of differential duties, upon which so much stress was then laid, amounts to far less than the banner of differential nationalities, which, if once hoisted in this country, might produce alliances as unnatural as the wretched divisions that brought them about. Strong and powerful as Buenos Ayres may be, Porteños must ever remember that if this Province sundered from the rest, that rest would form an independent nation which, with very little diplomacy, might be brought to form an alliance with Chile for a Chilian settlement of the Patagonian Question. Let no man deny the hypothesis: the cloud that hangs over this country is at present no bigger than a man's hand, but it is a cloud, and can be seen more clearly than the comet's tail; and it is to warn politicians of that cloud that we take up this subject, which is whispered in the clubs, although not dared to be openly discussed. The strong political current upon which we have been borne for the last week has set in in the direction to which we fearlessly and unhesitatingly point; and Roquistas and Tejedoristas should ever remember that it is often far better "to bear the ills we have than fly to others that we know not of."

IRELAND.

GREAT FIRE IN DUBLIN.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Duchess of Marlborough's Relief Fund was held this afternoon in the Throne Room of Dublin Castle. The Duchess of Marlborough presided. She said she had taken the opportunity of so many ladies being in Dublin to call a meeting of the general committee of the fund, and was desirous that they should be informed fully as to what had been done already, and how they intended to proceed. Explaining why she had asked the ladies of Ireland to help in this work, she said she believed, and the results proved that she was right, that ladies would be more persuasive and energetic in collecting money for the fund, and she also thought thus to remove all political difficulties. It was intended to appoint one or two gentlemen to visit the distressed localities as travelling commissioners, and they would report to the committee the result of their observations. Dr. J. C. Meredith, hon. secretary, then read the financial report. The total amount received up to this date was £32,472 5. 5d., of which a sum of £10,689 6s. 3d. had been expended, leaving a balance of £21,782 19s 2d. to the credit of the fund.—Lord Randolph Churchill next read the report of the executive committee. The first steps taken by them for the relief of the distress in the north-west, west, and south-west of Ireland was to organise local committees in those unions which, from the best information obtained, were most affected: and it was not the practice of the committee to deal directly with any of the applications for relief from districts where local committees had been organised, except through the channel of those local committees. Although the organisation of these bodies had occasioned very considerable labour on the part of the committee, they felt that they were now in a position to deal with the distress as a whole, more satisfactorily than any other association hitherto formed. The relief is only to be given in food, fuel, or clothing, but not in money, and the local committees must keep books containing the names of the applicants for relief, particulars as to residence, age, occupation, number in family, extent of land held, if any, and the nature, amount, and duration of relief afforded in each case.

Since the 26th December, 1879, fifty committees for the distribution of grants from this fund have been established. Grants to the local committees of £10,000 have been divided among the counties as follows:—Donegal, £1,225, Sligo, £850 Leitrim, £450,; Mayo, £1,850.; Galway, £1,970.; Roscommon, £900.; Clare, £1,085.; Limerick, £100.; Kerry, £1,100.; Cork, £475. The committee had also made the following special grants, to meet cases of urgent distress pending the establishment of local committees:—To Ballymote, county Sligo, £20.; to Bruff, county Limerick, £10.; to the Bishop of Raphoe, for the North Donegal Relief Committee, £25.; to Buminaden, county Mayo, £20.; Castlebar, £50.; Bantry, county Cork, £20.; and to Lecarron, county Roscommon, £25,; to the Island of Achill, &c., £15., making a total of £210. The committee consider that during the ensuing six weeks it will be necessary, if possible, to furnish grants to those local committees in the aggregate amounting to not less than £5,000 per week. It was to be hoped that before that time has elapsed relief works, both public and private, will have come into operation, which will no doubt greatly mitigate the demands upon their resources.

The Mansion House Relief Committee met to-day. The Lord Mayor who presided, stated that the fund now amounted to £28,967., of which they had distributed £10,262. The Rev. Canon Trench, Rev Mr Nugent and Mr. J. J. Briscoe waited on the committee as a deputation from the Liverpool committee, with a view of ascertaining the extent of the distress, and conferring with the committee as to the best means of meeting it. It was intimated that the deputation would themselves visit the distressed districts and judge for themselves on the subject.

A meeting to form a committee for the relief of the distress in the city of Dublin was held this afternoon in the Ancient Concert Rooms. The Lord Mayor, who was present, said it would be a disgrace to Dublin, which was a comparatively rich city, if they appealed to the world to support their poor. The funds, he said, would be distributed through the different charitable organisations of the city. The subscriptions announced included the £500 which the Lord Mayor gives in lieu of the Banquet to the Viceroy, £400 as the first instalment of £1,000 from the licensed grocers and victuers, and £200 from Lord O'Hagan.

Yesterday evening, at a place called Carmeden, near Ballyhaunes, a crowd of about 400 men and boys congregated and commenced building the house of a man named Rourke, from which he had been evicted some time ago. The landlord, hearing it, despatched messengers to the nearest police depots, reporting the occurrence. All the constabulary procurable proceeded at once to Carmeden, and sought to prevent the people, but failed. On the completion of the house, Rourke and his family were again installed in it. A serious collision between the police and the people is anticipated.

A destructive fire broke out to-night, between nine and ten o'clock at the extensive biscuit factory of Messrs W. and R. Jacob, situated in Peter's-row, in the centre of a densely-peopled district, the building being, in fact, closely surrounded by tenement buildings occupied by the poorer working class. The flames rapidly took hold of the place, and soon illuminated the whole horizon, and the sparks were wafted across Dublin Castle, where a ball was being given, and lighted up Dame-street. Peter's-row is a narrow, cramped thoroughfare, and great difficulty was experienced by the fire brigade in getting near it. Numbers of families have vacated their houses. The account books were saved. Several of the tenement houses caught fire. The utmost excitement prevails.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Our Havas despatch from London, dated Tuesday, says that the Famine in Ireland is every day getting worse, and on that day the House of Commons passed a bill for efficacious measures of relief. Let us trust that this will be the turning point.

Lochiel's Warning in the Nacion of yesterday was the 'novedad' of the day, We give it in another column. If true, the news is of the most momentous importance. The news on the Bolsa is that it was writtten by a gold broker.

There is a screw loose somewhere about the Galicia's mails. All our inquiries to ascertain where our usual files have gone to have proved fruitless.

The city is gradually recovering its usual appearance. The ladies and children, who were only to be seen on their balconies last week, now venture into the streets again; private equipages are also more numerous, and things are evidently settling down, although tavern political scuffles and other outrages occupy an unpleasantly large space in the newspapers: A policeman was murdered on Monday night at the corner of Calles Venezuela and Lima; a fatal affray between two Tiro Nacional youths is announced, and in Calle Florida two soldiers, one of a Line regiment and the other of the Provincial Guard, gave vent to their political feelings with their side arms, and one of them is, for the present, unfit to appear in public life. Many people are much surprised to see in the papers, in spite of the recent conciliation, notices to the volunteers to meet at their 'cuarteles' for drill etc. All the non-combative portion of the population were in hopes that all this kind of thing had been put a stop to by the agreement between the President and the Governor.

The Progreso Club Committee made special preparations for their ball last night. There was an Electric Light in the patio, and the Garden of Eden itself could hardly beat the display of flowers all over the Club.

Mr. Miguel Cane's letters in the Nacional attract universal appreciation, and we are sorry we have not space to publish them as they appear. Mr. C. has all the 'verve,' freshness and incisive critical powers of Taine, while he is somewhat more moderate, and consequently more accurate, in his views than the famous Frenchman.

St. Patrick's Day is the date fixed for Mr. William Martin's amateur entertainment for the Irish Relief Fund. 'Il va sans dire' that it will be a great success, histrionically and pecuniarily. At the meeting yesterday all the arrangements were made and a ladies' committee named. Mr. Martin organizes victory.

The Horticultural Society's Show will open on Sunday next at the Florida Gardens. We hear that it will far surpass the last Show. By the way, while on the subject of flowers, a colleague announces that the Flower Market recently erected, at a cost to the city tax-payers of $360,000 m/c., is going to rack and ruin. The attempt to turn the place into a mild imitation of Covent Garden proved a most lamentable fiasco, and it has been untenanted ever since it was built.

The mails from Chile bring advices that small-pox is very bad at Antofagasta and other places. Mars always brings Disease in his train as chief of the staff of horrors surrounding him.

We are sorry to hear that both the President of the Republic and the Lord Mayor are slightly indisposed and confined to the house.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the birth of the Washington of South America, General San Martin.

We hear from a San Vicente friend that the camps about there are as bare as bodkins, and that rain is much wanted. It is the same elsewhere, but Jupiter Pluvius seems bent on staying at home. The 'harvest moon' every night looks as dry as a pippin.

A colleague announces that the extension of the Southern Railway to Ayacucho is being pushed ahead by fully 800 men, all in the fullest health. 'All right and in good spirtus!' Hurrah!

Opera-goers have a stiff winter before them as no fewer than three Italian companies are announced—for Colon, the Opera House and the Politeama—to say nothing of the French and zarzuela troupes. A morning colleague says that Mr. Ferrari has some hope of being able to secure the great tenor Gayarre, to whom Stagno and Tamagno, 'divine' as the fair ones of Buenos Ayres consider them, are merely lyric farthing candles. The year has been so prosperous that there will be plenty of money for all winter amusements.

We cannot, in our long experience of Buenos Ayres, remember a time when public subscriptions were so numerous in this city and province as at present. Just now we have the Irish Relief Fund, the Italian ditto., the Spanish Estudiantina, the Tejedor gold medal, the Tejedor album (Mercedes), the Arms and Ammunition for the Tiros, and the banner for the church at Lourdes, to say nothing of all the Beneficencia, Hospital, churches here and in Europe, and other lists. It certainly speaks highly for the full hearts and full pockets of the people of Buenos Ayres to see all these subscriptions so well responded to: It is a pity that that for 'arms and ammunition' spoils the peaceable continuity of this long string of subscriptions.

A German Doctor has discovered the Elixir of Life—Lemons. Beginning with three lemons daily for a man and two for a woman, the dose is increased gradually till, at the first centenary of birth, it is 9 daily for a manand 8 for a woman: After that period the Teuton Doctor seems to have little faith in his prescription, as he breaks off by telling us that the late Prince Waldeck, who thought nothing of a lemon tree for lunch, lived to 120 years. The juice he did!

Major Mayer, a distinguished retired officer of the 12th of the Line, visited his old regiment at Palermo on Sunday and paid for 2,000 'choppes' of beer for the men to drink to the Republic: the gallant veteran also paid for two furniture vans to follow the corps into town and pick up any men who were over fatigued.

The America del Sur gives some interesting details about the number Four, which seems to prevail in everything—in heaven, on earth, and below—from the four cardinal points of the compass to the four cardinal virtues. In fact, there appears to be four of everything under the sun, except four candidates for the Presidency, which is what we want most just now. There is safety in a multitude of candidates as of counsellors.

We devoutly hope that Buenos Ayres newspaper readers will not adopt the new fashion in Montevideo for expressing dissapproval of an editor's writings. A colleague at the Mount received an anonymous note last week to the effect that if he did not change the tone of his leaders the writer would neither shoot him nor knife him, but would steal his son!! 'Parbleu!' In the case of bachelor editors what's the penalty?

The Correo del Domingo gives a capital portrait of Don Mariano Moreno in its last number: also 'The Irish Bard's Lament,' a really choice contribution which readers of that nationality will much admire.

Our latest advices from San Juan report that the legitimate drama is going to the dogs up there: the theatre was sold last week for a song, and that a very indifferent one, the buyer having a wretched voice.

We have to call attention to the advertisement in another column of our paper respecting the purchase of the well-known bookstore and stationers of Messrs. A. May and Co. (late Daws, the pioneer newsagent) by our active friend Mr. J. G. W. Burton, whose large business connection in city, as well this as the command of the services of the best London Agents will, we are convinced, secure him a large share of patronage.

Strange coincidences occur all over the world, but in no place so frequently as in Buenos Ayres. One of them, which could not fail to attract the attention of pleasure-seekers, is that a resort so charming as the Florida Gardens should meet with such meagre support. The orchestra, under the able management of Bassi, is remarkably fine; the selections played show great taste on the part of the leader as well as ability on the part of the performers. The artistic playing of Dn. Federico Guzman, as well as that of his wife, will leave their mark, not only on account of their individual talent, but likewise for their unassuming modesty. Doña Rosa Guzman de Agerayo's singing is not wanting in merit: though her voice is not powerful it is extremely flexible, and would doubtless be far more appreciated if heard in a moderate sized concert-room. The entrance fee of $25 is far too high, and $5 for a thimbleful of brandy is very dear.

We understand that the Rev. Fathers MacDonnell and Southwell purpose returning to Ireland on the 7th of next month. Persons wishing to make arrangements for boys for Terenure College Dublin can communicate with them at 328 Calle Lavalle. The present is a fine opportunity for parents who wish to secure for their children a thoroughly religious and superior European education on very moderate terms.

The next Children's Fancy Ball at the Florida Gardens will come off on Saturday night.

The Typographical Society has published a most interesting series of statistics about the votaries of the Black Art in this city. There are only 12 English and 3 North American printers in B. Ayres, and most, if not all of them, graduated in the Standard office. We have still a few of the 'Vielle Garde' with us, but the others are scattered over the city. We wish them all, young and old, every prosperity.

It is not only the sugar planters of Tucuman who have beaten the go-ahead city of Buenos Ayres in introducing the Electric Light, as we read in the papers by the mail that that murdering villain the King of Birmah has lately bought Joblakoff Candles to the tune of £10,000 to light up Mandalay. It is too bad to be beaten by this bibulous monarch.

A deaf old dame, who is diversely dubbed by our colleagues as Señora Fezter, Madame Fechter, and Mrs. Foster, was knocked down by an engine on the Southern Railway some days ago and seriously injured. The driver whistled loud enough to awaken the dead, but the poor old soul, being as deaf as a door post, caught it.

Our esteemed colleague La Paz makes an observation which many people will strongly endorse, viz, that the so-called Municipal Inspectors of Health, Tramways, Footways and Buildings are all so many 'dead heads,' and neither worth their salt or their salary, although they draw the latter with a chronometrical precision which even Dent himself could not beat.

A Rio doctor, named Carvalho, claims to have made a discovery that will, if true, give him a niche in Fame's temple beside Harvey and Jenner. He says that the inhalation of a certain kind of prepared resin, of which he holds the secret, is an infallible cure for yellow fever, and that he has never known it to miss. Tropical countries will hail Dr. Carvalho as a deliverer.

The Heraldo de America says that a new bank is about to be started, for the special accommodation of retail traders.

LOCHIEL'S WARNING.

The Nacion publishes the following important letter:—

Montevideo, Feb. 20th, 1880.

To the Editor of the Nacion,

Dear Sir,

It is my duty to inform you of an alarming fact which is already public in this capital, that you may publish it and make it known to Argentines in general, and to those more especially who can meet the impending danger and brave the storm that threatens the Argentine Republic.

When the Chilian Minister, D. Jose Victorino Lastarria, arrived here, it was whispered among the favourites of the Dictator that the new Chilian mission meant an offensive and defensive alliance against the Argentine Republic, between Brazil, Uruguay and Chile.

These rumours spread more and more as the intimacy between the Dictator and the Chilian envoy increased, and the fact is now known to all; those interested in the matter have not been able to keep it secret; and now it is public that the alliance has been signed.

The alliance exists: I can guarantee the fact—and its stipulations are most threatening to the Argentine Republic, as she is open to the combined attack of three enemies, who surround her on all sides.

The daring soldier who has seized the Government of this country is known to you all: he is not a man who would be scrupulous of the most objectionable means to attain his object and give vent to his passions: he has not shrunk on this occasion from endangering the independence of his country, already ruined and lacerated by the brutal hands of its rulers and their satraps.

Latorre, like Lopez of Paraguay, no doubt, dreams of grand plans of aggrandisement and military glory. The acquisition of Martin Garcia is his phantom ideal: this and a few other advantages are enough to persuade him to a policy of intrigue and treason against the Argentine Republic.

The warlike preparations carried on here, Mr. Editor, are not re-assuring, and corroborate the advices I give you in this note. The men of the Dictator are making supreme efforts to convince all that these preparations are to suppress revolutionary outbreaks. There is a strange coincidence besides. Brazil is arming to the teeth: Count d'Eu has been recalled by cablegram.

If you study the situation of this country, you will see how futile all revolutionary pretexts are. Nobody dreams of revolution, for reasons it is useless to recapitulate here.

As an Argentine I have obeyed a sacred duty in raising a voice of warning to my countrymen and the Government.

I am, &c.,

An Argentine.

A Dull Headache, Costiveness, Low Spirits, and No Appetite, are some of the indications of a Bilious Attack, arising from a Torpid Liver. Dr. Jayne's Sanative Pills will soon restore the Liver to action, drive all symptoms of biliousness from the system, and assist in bringing about a regular action of the bowels.

The gold market opened with great firmness at 30.85, and at once advanced to 30.95, but at this price there were far more sellers than buyers, and prices at once dropped, closing at the opening rate. Prices for the end of March fluctuated ten cents, opening at 31, advancing to 31.10, and closing at 31.

Cedulas gave way sharply enough, yesterday at 86, to-day at 83½. A very small business done. Treasury Bills rule very firm and close at 77½, and National Bank Shares at 60¼.

The Royal Mail s.s. Tamar entered Montevideo to-day, and her mails come up to-night per Jupiter.

It was announced on 'Change that the Supreme Court has decided the great lawsuit of Puig & Clavero versus The Buenos Aires Gas Company, and in favor of the Gas Co. We hold for to-morrow this important decision

The news from Europe to-day by wire was excellent as regards wool, and slow enough respecting hides and tallow. The telegrams will be found in another column.

There was not much gold delivered to-day, although a heavy delivery is looked for on Saturday. It was rumoured on 'Change that Dr Lopez, President of the Provincial Bank, will be the new Presidential candidate.

Exchange was somewhat firmer to-day, and done at 50½ and 5.32; but we also heard of bills passed at 49⅝ by a leading German house, and also at 50¼.

The well known estanciero firm of Musgrave & O'Grady, as appears by notice, is dissolved, and the new firm of Musgrave, O'Grady & Co. is formed.

The Bolsa opened this morning under a new alarm caused by a letter in the Nacion from an Argentine in Montevideo. As this letter has attracted such great notice we give a translation of it in another column. It is a species of LOCKIEL WARNING to Argentines of every political colour, to members of Tiro Nacional in every province, to troops of the line and National Guards, to Presidential candidates and Presidential electors; and it is more than probable this extraordinary letter will do more to bring about a conciliation of parties than all the interviews between Governor and Minister. For the last week sufficiently alarming rumours have been flying about. A Brazilian army of observation has been ordered on the Upper Paraguay frontier; a new Brazilian naval station has been placed at Asuncion. Count D'Eu, who had gone over to Ireland with the Empress of Austria to follow the Kildare hounds, has been summoned back to Rio, and to crown everything, Gen. La Torre, they say, has left Montevideo at the head of a few troops to meet some rumoured invasion, but more likely to organize another army of observation; and according to the Nacion letter the observation will be over Martin Garcia or thereabouts. There is really nothing surprising in the Nacion's news, since it is but reasonable to suppose that Chile or the other neighbouring countries should avail of a moment when the Republic suffers so much from internal convulsions to settle questions of foreign relations. If this Republic to its own self keeps true, it has nothing to fear, but if we are to witness a repetition of last week's troubles, then it seems clear that questions of far higher importance than that of Roca and Tejedor will occupy the public mind at the close of the present Argentine administration.

The sale of 2½ square leagues of land in Lincoln is reported at 85,000 m/c per league, which is indeed cheap and goes to show that farmers who are paying 12,000 m/c rent for a puesto might by buying a league of this coarse land, and putting a couple of hundred cows on it, in a few years have land as fine and as good as the puesto, which to-day costs the farmer the enormous rent of 12,000 m/c per annum. On 10th March the Salas chacra Las Heras, 50 squares of land, wired &c, will be sold under execution by the Provincial Bank; 80,000 m/c is the valuation and only ½ cash.

Yesterday the funeral of Mr Gimenez took place; it was largely attended by our leading foreign merchants. Mr Gimenez, as Director of the Provincial Bank, had lent the markets services; his loss is regretted by the whole commercial community.

The North German Lloyd steamer Strassburg takes the following cargo:—12,000 salted hides, 3,000 dry hides and 3,800 bales of wool. Splendid cargo.

The sale of 2,000 capones, Carmen de Areco, at 50 m/c, and 2,000 capones, partido Pila, at 45 is announced; also 600 novillos, 3 years old, at 480; also 3 cargoes of mules, total 304 mules, for Mauritius, at 40 pats each.

A lot of tallow from the rivers sold at 13½ rls., and a large lot of wheat at 240 m/c per fanega.

Farmers and others interested in the purchase of provincial public lands will take notice that on 11th March Mr Gabriel Ocampo will hold a most important public land auction. On 25th May a square league of Government land at Rauch will also be sold.

The clearing of the French mail by Gironde was the day's business. She took a large number of passengers, and a good cargo, but in the way of exchange we could hear of very little done. The rates still rule weak, and the bankers decline to take at present rates.

The gold market ruled weaker at afterhours, and closed sellers at 90. It was freely said on 'Change that the letter in the Nacion this morning, which attracted such great attention, was written by a well known broker of the Bolsa, and sent down to Montevideo to be posted there to the Nacion. Some party, it seems was in the secret, and the whole business got wind and was known.

Advices from Europe state that the expenses attending the forwarding of bales from Bremen to Antwerp by rail amount to 10s/ and 10 per cent per bale, say 3 paper Dollars per arrobe. This charge has been incurred owing to the ice in the Scheldt, and has to be met by the shipper.

Telegrams were received here at 4 o'clock announcing that the explorer Mr F Moreno is liberated, which afforded the greatest satisfaction.

We note that specie is beginning to come back to us from the rivers and in large amounts; the theory that the gold sent up from here in the saladero season to pay for cattle remains up there is erroneous B. Aires is the supplying mart of Entre Rios and Corrientes, and as a necessary consequence the gold paid for the cattle falls into the coffers of the 'pulperos' and merchants of those provinces, and in the end comes back to Buenos Aires. The Silex brought down last trip from Gualeguaychu 10,000 pats. gold.

The French barque Esperrier has cleared for Mauritius with 160 mules and 249 bales hay, &c.

It may interest American merchants to know that Lamport & Holt's steamer Olbers is posted to sail from Rio on 2nd for New York.

The splendid North German Lloyd steamer Strassburg will sail on Saturday with a full cargo.

The Telegrafo Maritimo gives late telegrams from Barcelona, announcing a further rise in wines for the River Plate. It is remarkable that as wines become dearer and dearer in Europe, they increase and cheapen here; from all we hear of the wine this year in the Argentine provinces we may all soon look forward to a bordelesa of good dinner claret the same as Malmsey's at say 600 m/c. In a few years Argentine wines will be like Argentine peaches, not people enough in the country to consume them. An Irish estanciero from the South says that the 'montes' this year are so full of peaches that the farmers are feeding the flocks of sheep with them, and yet a good peach is worth 2s 6d to-day at Covent Garden, London.

The sale of 7,000 salted hides from the Mocoretá saladero, 63 lbs., at 50 rls. payable here is reported, and points to a drop of 3 rls established in the price of the article. It seems that the former prices paid for salted hides were altogether too high for the European markets.

Messrs Gandolfi & Moss, in their market review for the packet, say:—"That the fortnight for importers has been very dull, owing to the intense political crisis, which has fortunately collapsed, but all the politics going did not check our exporters. The country has been on the edge of an abyss, but happily all has been arranged. In the midst of all the row however, gold did not rise, and this is due to the admirable conduct of the Provincial Bank; the exchange operations of the Bank were not interrupted and have left profit. The import of gold continues, and we know for a fact that the Bank has balances to its credit in Europe. Since the political arrangement referred to business has become a little brisker, but the fall of a paper dollar in the patacon has induced almaceneros to wait in the hope of making more advantageous purchases, and we close the fortnight with rather brighter auspices."

The new steamer placed on the Rio & New York line is called the Colorado; she is splendidly fitted up and one of the finest on that line.

Mr Parkman left in the Cordillera; during his short business sojourn in this city he made very large sales by samples, and the result of his visit we are happy to say has been highly satisfactory.
